<p&gt;Origin and early years&lt;/p&gt;
<p&gt;There has been much dispute over the invention of modern tennis, but the e officially recognized centennial of 🌻 the game in 1973 commemorated i ts introduction by Major Walter Clopton Wingfield in 1873.</p&gt;
<p&gt;He published the first book of rules &#127803; that year and took out a patent on his game in 1874, although historians have concluded that similar ga mes were 🌻 played earlier and that the first tennis club was establishe d by the Englishman Harry Gem and several associates in Leamington 🌻 in 1872.</p&qt;
<p&gt;Wingfield&#39;s court was of the hourglass shape and may have developed from badminton.</p&gt;
<p&gt;The hourglass shape, stipulated by Wingfield in &#127803; his booklet
"Sphairistiké, or Lawn Tennis," may have been adopted for patent reasons since it distinguished the court from ordinary 🌻 rectangular co urts.</p&gt;
<p&gt;At the time, the Marylebone Cricket Club (MCC) was the governing body o f real tennis, whose rules it had 🌻 recently revised.After J.M.</p&g <p&gt;Heathcote, a distinguished real tennis player, developed a better tenni s ball of rubber covered with white flannel, the 🌻 MCC in 1875 establis hed a new, standardized set of rules for tennis.</p&gt;
<p&gt;Meanwhile, the game had spread to the United States &#127803; in the 1 870s.</p&qt;
<p&gt;Mary Outerbridge of New York has been credited with bringing a set of r ackets and balls to her 🌻 brother, a director of the Staten Island Cric ket and Baseball Club.</p&gt;
<p&gt;But research has shown that William Appleton of Nahant, Massachusetts,
🌻 may have owned the first lawn tennis set and that his friends James D wight and Fred R.&It;/p>
<p&gt;Sears popularized the game.&lt;/p&gt;
<p&gt;An &#127803; important milestone in the history of tennis was the deci sion of the All England Croquet Club to set aside one 🌻 of its lawns at Wimbledon for tennis, which soon proved so popular that the club changed its na me to the 🌻 All England Croquet and Lawn Tennis Club.</p&gt;
<p&gt;In 1877 the club decided to hold a tennis championship, and a champions hip subcommittee 🌻 of three was appointed.</p&gt;
