esportebet novo

On 9 October the German regulator issued licences for the bwin, Sportin gBet, Ladbrokes  and Gamebookers brands to enable each of 🧾 them to offer spor ts-betting products to  customers across Germany. This is a significant milestone for GVC comi ng swiftly after &It;p> the 🧾 Tolerance Policy for gaming that was announced on 1 Oct ober 2024 and brings further  clarity and certainty in Germany. 18+ | 🧾 Juegoseguro.es Jugarbien.es An outline of the  licence terms are:per month that can be increased to <10,000 subject t o certain <p&qt; criteria 🧾 being met as well as certain loss limitsThe abilit y to increase this further  to <30,000 for 1 per cent of 🧾 customers subject to enhanced due diligence and certain  loss limitsDeposit limits until customer verification processes are co mpleteMaximum  annual bonus per 🧾 customer of <100The inclusion of certain r esponsibility requirements <p&qt; by the licence holder the licences have been issued with immediate effe ct.The granting  🧾 of the licences to GVC s four sports brands in Germany is i n-line with GVC s strategic  ambition of operating in regulated 🧾 markets and will enable it to build on its leading  position in the German market. Following implementation, GVC estimates that 🧾 Group  EBITDA will be reduced by up to £40m1 on an annualised basis.Shay Segev, CEO of GVC</p&qt;  commented: The award of 🧾 these licences is great news for GV C, bringing the clarity and  certainty that we have long sought for sports-betting in 🧾 Ge rmany. Combined with the  recent Tolerance Policy we can now look confidently to the future, bui Iding on our&It;/p>  position as 🧾 a market leader by delivering an unparalleled, innovative experience for</p&qt;  our German customers. The much-anticipated regulation of online gaming in 🧾 Germany  re-enforces GVC s position as the most globally regulated and responsi ble operator in  our industry.  